Perhaps you are searching for fresh inspiration.

Maybe you need a glimpse of what's new.

Solutions seekers ideally it will help you too.

It is our humble hope that you will all enjoy this little seasonal product guide featuring e tu partners.

Why Guide.

NEW Nordic.

Designed by Norwegian Bery & Hindenes, the Nordic lounge was crafted with distinct character. The seat and back are constructed of high resiliency molded foam with the addition of flexible webbing for suspension and comfort. The frame and legs are fabricated in high-strength low-alloy steel for the highest level of durability.

Nordic's inviting style and robust constructions makes it ideal for lively hospitality spaces, corporate collaboration and high traffic public amenity spaces.

Evolving trends...

Senior Living.

“The hospitality industry, potentially in partnership with senior living providers, is in a position to design and market “enhanced lifestyle-driven” housing that will appeal to boomers today, and future generations tomorrow, instead of waiting until they are in their mid- to late-80s.” School of Hospitality Review.

“These characteristics lead us to create more sophisticated and well-tailored common areas such as the sitting areas, library area, multiple dining areas and bar and lounge areas” Senior Housing News

Senior living is simply an extension to the Beaufurn spirit of design. A refined brand feel and image, Senior Living by Beaufurn employs functional, yet timeless designs and is crafted with consideration to the needs of today’s modern senior.

Fresh take...

Biophilia.

“One of the great challenges of our time is to bring the beneficial experience of nature into the design of contemporary buildings, landscapes, communities, and cities.” – Stephen R. Kellert, Nature by Design: The Practice of Biophilic Design

“The physiological and psychological benefits of being in a space with wood are many: lowered blood pressure and heart rate, perception of warmth, and connection to living things to name a few. In addition, research continues to indicate that nature-made and human-made environments are processed differently in our brains, influencing which is the preferred experience.”

TOP SHAPES

Design by Source International Design

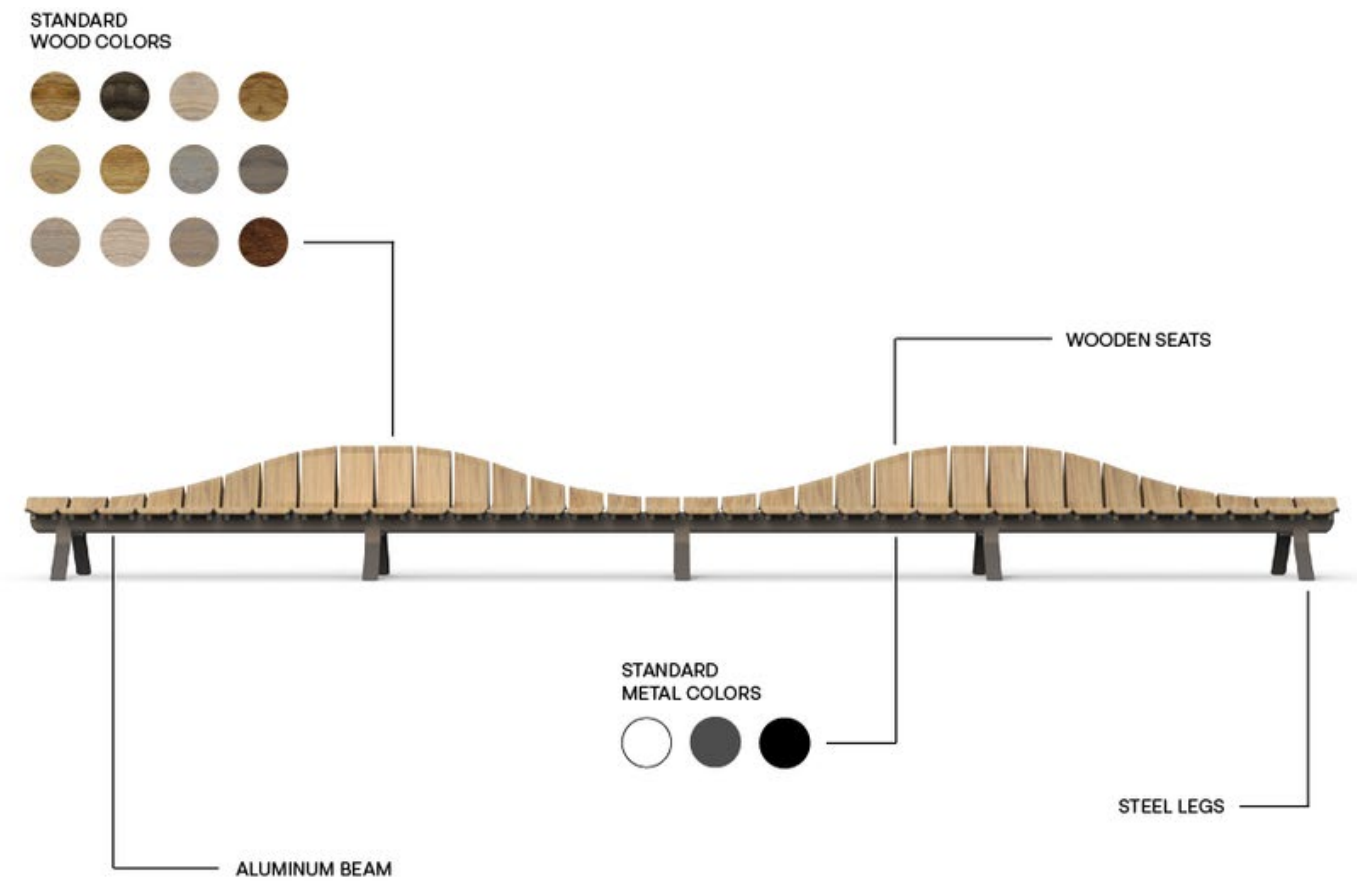

The "Boardroom".

Once a place of power, the Boardroom has boldly returned to be gathering place for client facing, and critical business meetings. A bit more formal than huddles, or typically conference rooms. The return to workplace requires a few formal spaces. Today's Boardroom delivers on that "formal aesthetic" with one key difference: it will uniquely and transparently tell a story about the company's specific brand, history and culture.
