Crafted in Collaboration

Our collections are shaped by global designers, who bring fresh perspectives, timeless style, and thoughtful innovation.

Gemma Bernal

Gemma Bernal was born in Barcelona, a city where tradition and innovation live side by side. Her designs, like her city, balance clarity with warmth and simplicity with purpose. In partnership with Source International, Bernal has created furniture that is both practical and human—pieces that support the rhythm of work with quiet elegance.

Enduring Relationships

SOURCE

Why Source?

Trusted partnerships, tailored support, and a commitment to making every project a success.

SOURCE

Commitment You Can Count On

Our warranty is more than words— it's a promise that if something isn't right, we will make it right. Always.

A Tailored Experience

Service here isn't one-size-fits-all. We prioritize open communication and personalized, proactive support to make every interaction smooth, stress-free, and aligned with what matters most to you.

Trusted Contracts

We're proud to participate in GSA, OMNIA, TIPS, and state contracts—giving you access to purchasing power, cost savings, and streamlined procurement.

ENDURING RELATIONSHIPS

Family Values

As a family-owned business, we bring a personal touch to every project. We move quickly without layers of bureaucracy and stand firmly behind our products and promises, delivering reliable, relationship-driven service that bigger corporations simply can't match.

Partnering for Success

“Source’s pieces are classic and timeless, but also highly customizable. We frequently select COMs to align with a project’s material palette, and Source’s team always takes the extra step of testing memo samples when it’s a new fabric they haven’t worked with before—ensuring the fit and performance before production begins.”

Real Spaces, Real Results

Kroll's new Chicago workplace was envisioned as a space that could embody the firm's evolving identity, foster team cohesion, and support an adaptive, hybrid workforce. To achieve this, Unispace implemented a strategic furniture solution that paired aesthetic clarity with long-term performance.

By integrating Defign and Jump into key environments, Unispace ensured a balance of visual cohesion, ergonomic integrity, and operational agility. The furniture design not only reflects our identity but also enhances the everyday experiences of those who use the space.
